TWO CENT RATE STILL IN FORCE

Western Maryland Takes Heed at Warning of County Commissioners Attorney and Instructs Agents to Sell Tickets at Old Rates.

The Western Maryland sold tickets today at the old two cent rate, their agents in this and neighboring counties having received notice to that effect on Wednesday afternoon. Up to this time J. L. Williams, Esq., who notified the railroad that an attempt to increase the rate would be met with prompt legal action, has received no official notification of the company's purpose in the future.

The schedule of new rates was in the hands of the railroad's ticket agents several weeks ago with instructions to make them effective today, February 16. The notices ordering them to continue selling at the two cent rate which has prevailed for several years, did not come until late Wednesday and gave no reason for the change in policy.

The present rate will remain in force until further notice which, it is believed by those who have opposed the advance, means until the Western Maryland has proved to the State Railroad Commission that they cannot profitably operate their passenger traffic at a two cent fare.

GETTYSBURG IN BIG ROADS PLAN

Gettysburg would be Connected with York, Harrisburg, Carlisle,
Chambersburg and Many County
Towns by Provisions of New Bill.

The much talked of and eagerly awaited Sproul highway bills have made their appearance and include in the comprehensive state wide improvement of highways a number of Adams County roads. The purpose and plan with the principal provisions of the measures are outlined on page two of today's Times.

The following roads through Adams County all leading to Gettysburg are mentioned in the bills as among those to be made state highways and until then to be under state supervision:

Gettysburg to York by way of New Oxford, Abbottstown and Farmers.

Carlisle to Gettysburg by way of Mt. Holly Springs, Hunterdon, Alga, Bendersville, Biglerville and Goldenville.

Gettysburg to Chambersburg, by way of McKnightstown, Cashtown and Fayetteville.

Harrisburg to Gettysburg by way of Wormleysburg, Lemoyne, Shepherds-town, Dillsburg, Clearspring, York Springs and Plain View.

It will be seen that by these plans Gettysburg would be connected by state highways with Harrisburg, York, Chambersburg and Carlisle while it would also be similarly connected with a large number of the principal towns of the county.

Toll roads indicated are to be purchased and made a part of the big system.

CLAIM ARREST WAS ILLEGAL

Attorney for Frank Shultz Asks his Freedom on Ground that he was Arrested Contrary to State
Comity Laws.

Frank Shultz was held for Court by Squire Hill this morning on charges of pointing a gun and assault and battery though Mr. Shultz's attorney, William Hersh, Esq., plead for his release on the ground that his re-arrest was in violation of the laws governing the attitude of a state towards a prisoner brought from another state on another charge.

The case charging burglary, on which Shultz was brought from Cumberland, Maryland, was not pressed on Tuesday and Mr. Hersh argued, and cited the authority to prove his contention, that there had been no legal right for his re-arrest on other charges. Squire Hill said that he was inclined to agree with Mr. Hersh in his contention but preferred that the Court should rule on the matter. District Attorney Neely conducted the case for the Commonwealth.

The charges brought against Shultz were made by John Saylor, of Franklin township, as the outgrowth of an affair alleged to have occurred in November 1908. Mr. Saylor charged that on the evening of the second of November Shultz came into a room at his home and struck him twice, the first blow taking effect on the side of his head. He fell following this blow, according to his testimony, and was then dealt another blow which rendered him unconscious. This was administered to the back of his head near the base of the brain. Mr. Saylor said.

According to the testimony offered Mr. Saylor remained unconscious until four o'clock the next morning and when he awoke none of the family or anyone else was about. He attended to his wounds in the best way he could but was not able to eat anything for several days and had no medical attention. Mr. Hersh made an examination to see if he could find Mr. Saylor's wounds but indicated that he could see nothing of them.

The stick with which the blows were struck to have been dealt was described as a rock oak stick, eighteen inches long and as "thick as a man's hand." The next morning, said Mr. Saylor, blood and hair were on it.

On November the fifteenth, about two weeks later, Shultz is alleged to have said to Saylor "Get out or I'll shoot you" and pointed a revolver. Saylor left. Information was laid some time later.

Ottie Shultz was called as a witness and testified that in January following the incidents out of which the cases have resulted he moved into the house vacated by Saylor. He told of what the prosecution considered were evidences of having tried to hide Frank Shultz. The witness said holes had been bored in the doors and elsewhere and pins had been inserted, with the evident intent of watching for unwelcome visitors. He also said that the wood cutting had been done in the cellar, also intimated as significant. Mr. Hersh objected strongly to the presentation of this evidence.

Ralph Shultz was called and testified to having gone to Saylor's home on November third and helping to wash the wounds on his head.

John Shultz told of having seen John Saylor on the same morning.

Constables Wilson and Shearer gave testimony, telling of efforts made to arrest or find the defendant, which was later taken up as insufficient to show that Shultz had been a fugitive from justice and also as indicating that the constables had not made a proper search for him.

Upon the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Hersh and Mr. Neely presented their arguments which were entirely on the legality of the serving of the two warrants charging assault and battery and pointing a gun, and Squire Hill ruled as above indicated, Shultz being again remanded to the custody of Sheriff Fissel.

For a number of years a swarm of honey bees made their home in a wall back of the pulpit in the Andersontown church near Dillsburg, and during the summer time frequently annoyed the minister during services, especially while the organ was being played. PAYS $500,000 TO BOOM BASE BALLS

Manufacturer Also Supplies All Needed Free.

New York, Feb. 16.—For a bonus, said to be $500,000, the National League of Professional Base Ball Clubs, in session here, made a twenty-year contract with a sporting goods firm to use a base ball of its manufacture for the official league ball.

It is the same ball that has been used by the National league for the last sixteen years, and in adopting it again the magnates rejected an offer of a Cincinnati firm, said to have been $325,000 in twenty annual installments of $16,250, of which half was to be in cash and half in base balls supplied.

Heretofore it has been commonly supposed, even among the players, that the big leagues paid about 97 cents each for balls which sell at retail at $1.25, but the developments show that they not only pay nothing, but receive all the balls they use free, and a considerable sum of cash besides.

The exact terms of the contract were not disclosed, but it is understood to have been a cash offer, accompanied by a $500,000 certified check, and "all the balls the eight clubs could use in playing championship games."

The ball in question is made in Chicago, and the contract commences with the season of 1912.

TELLS HOW HE KILLED HIS WIFE

Reading Murderer Confesses at Hearing.

GIRLS' PATHETIC STORY

Told How Vanaman Deceived Her, While Sister of Dead Woman Related Threats of Murder.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 16.—After passing three sleepless nights in jail, Matthew E. Vanaman confessed at his hearing to having killed his wife by shooting her through the head while she slept.

The strain is telling on young Vanaman. He has lost his appetite and is in a despondent mood. Infatuation for Miss Ella Wessner, twenty years old, of Blandon, before whom he had been posing for some months as a single man, and whom he had been courted regularly and had promised to make his wife, was the motive for the murder.

After much sparring and seeing that his tales were flimsy, he told the story of the terrible crime. It is evident that he had carefully planned the details of the murder and had expected to hoodwink the officers into believing the story that his wife had been killed by a flying fragment from an exploded oil stove.

Keep Hearing Secret.

The fact that Vanaman was to be given a hearing was kept secret to avoid a crowd gathering at the office of Magistrate Koch. When Vanaman was placed on the stand he was asked concerning the death of his wife, whether it was true that he had killed her; if his motive in getting rid of her was so that he could be free to marry Miss Wessner. All of these questions were answered either evasively or denied altogether. He first told a rambling story of how his wife met her death, and appeared to be more nervous than at any time since the tragedy.

When Miss Wessner was brought into the room Vanaman grew distinctly pale and agitated. In a low voice Miss Wessner told the story of how Vanaman had deceived her. She told of their relations, and said that she had wished for the day when Vanaman would marry her to save her from disgrace.

Miss Mary Mogel, a sister of the dead woman, was called, and testified that several months ago Vanaman, in her presence, had threatened to shoot his wife.

Describes the Murder.

Vanaman's reserve finally broke down and he told how he crept up stairs while his wife slept and sent the bullet crashing through her head which caused her death. He said that after going to the hospital with his wife in the ambulance he returned home, secured the revolver with which he did the shooting, and then started for West Reading to inform his wife's relatives of her death. On the way across the Penn street bridge, he declared, he threw the weapon into the Schuylkill river.

After the hearing, and as the officers were about to take Vanaman back to jail, Miss Wessner, with a sobbing voice, came forward and told Vanaman that she would get a Bible for him. Vanaman answered:

"It's too late now. I should have had the Bible a year ago; then I would not be in this trouble now."

PLAN BIG ROAD SYSTEM

Bills in Pennsylvania Legislature to Construct 5000 Miles of Highways. Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 16.—Senator William C. Sprout, of Delaware county, introduced in the senate two bills in which he aims to provide a comprehensive plan for new highways throughout the state.

With the bills he introduced a resolution for an amendment to the constitution to authorize a $50,000,000 bond issue promptly to carry out the construction of the system of state highways.

The bills would create a state highway commissioner at a salary of $8000 a year; first deputy at $6000; second deputy at $5000; chief engineer at $1000; assistant engineer at $3600; fifty civil engineers to act as assistants to the chief engineer at $2400 each a year; chief draftsman at $2400 and eight assistant draftsmen at $1800 each; chief clerk, $2400; two clerks and two stenographers, $1200 each, and two bookkeepers at $1200 each.

In explaining the scope and purpose of his measures, Mr. Sprout said:

"One of the bills provides for a complete system of main highways to be built and maintained at the sole expense of the state, connecting the county seats throughout the state and connecting the border line counties with the adjoining commonwealths.

"These proposed roads aggregate more than 5000 miles and have been carefully mapped out by men thoroughly familiar with the topographical and other conditions existing throughout the state and embrace 200 routes which are specifically described and set forth in detail in the bill. Further legislatures must add to these routes.

"There are main roads practically bisecting every county with at least four leading out of each county seat and so arranged as to touch all the important towns and market centers. The bill further provides that these roads shall be taken over immediately and maintained at the state's expense without waiting for the work of reconstruction."

All the Guests Were Costumes of the Frontier.

Short Hills, N. J., Feb. 16.—The "round up" given by Mr. and Mrs. William Delaney at their home in Delwick Lane was the talk of the social set here.

It was a dance on the lines of western life. All the guests were in costumes of the "wild west," and the freedom of the settlements was imitated to the utmost. The drawing room was transformed into a typical western barroom. The men carried guns and "shot up" the place at frequent intervals.

Mr. and Mrs. Delaney have been overwhelmed with congratulations over the success of the entertainment.

Misjudged.
A young woman rushed up to a young man on Superior avenue the other day and shook hands with him cordially. "I have a confession to make to you," she gurgled. "You won't believe it, but I always thought you drank."

The young man fingered for a clove and tried not to blush.

"And now," she pursued, "I find that you are actually a temperance worker. Now I see you are trying to be modest and deny it, but you can never fool me again. I overheard my brother saying, in his slangy way, that you were a great booze fighter! Oh, he was in earnest. Why, he said that you had punished more of the stuff than any other ten men in Cleveland. I'm proud to know you. Will you ever pardon me for misjudging you?"

She was gone before he got through choking.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Life.
Ah, what is life, so brief at best?
A waking between rest and rest;

A gem's bright flash upon the hand;
A wave line traced on ocean's shore,
Just rippled there, then seen no more;
A gleam upon a forest's edge.

Its Always Bad
The Best of Backs Are Bad When They Ache, and Gettysburg People Know It.

A bad back is always bad. Bad at night when bedtime comes, just as bad in the morning. Every day Doan's Kidney Pills for it? Know they are for backache—for other kidney ills?

If you don't, some Gettysburg people do. Read a case of it:

John J. Tawney, 234 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I hold Doan's Kidney Pills in high esteem and always have a box in the house to use in case of need. I suffered from kidney complaint. My back ached constantly and often in the morning I was so stiff and lame that I could hardly get out of bed. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and caused me no end of annoyance. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so, getting them from the People's Drug Store and I was surprised by their promptness in relieving me. My health improved greatly and I now have no cause for complaint. Two years ago a member of my family publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in my behalf and at this time I can confirm that statement."

ISSUES A STATEMENT

Says It Has Long Been His Desire to Turn Over the Job and There Will Be No Controversy For Control of Road.

New York, Feb. 16.—According to a statement issued by George J. Gould, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company, he will retire from the presidency of the road and become chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Gould in his statement, said: "In respect to various rumors of a conflict for the control of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, Mr. Gould states that there is and will be no controversy between the controlling interests; that it has long been his intention, known to Mr. Rockefeller and Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., to retire from the presidency of the company as soon as the corporation could get the services of the best equipped railroad man to take his place.

"The offer of the position was made many months ago, with the approval of his associates, to a railroad man of the highest standing, who was unable to avail himself of it; ever since various men have been under consideration and discussion, and it is hoped that a selection will be made in the very near future.

"The stock owned and represented by the interests referred to will be voted at the annual election for the following directors:

"George J. Gould, Frederick T. Gates, Cornelius Vanderbilt, E. T. Jeffrey, Paul M. Warburg, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.; Edwin Gould, Edgar L. Harrison, of Blair & Co.; Kingston Gould, E. T. Adams, representative in this country of the Deutsche Bank; J. J. Storum, W. K. Bixby, O. L. Garrison, of St. Louis, and a vacancy left for the president to be selected, who is to reside in St. Louis.

"Mr. Gould will become chairman of the board of directors."

The offer of the presidency of the Missouri Pacific was made to William H. Treadwell, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, several weeks ago, but declined. At that time it became known that Mr. Gould would retire as head of the Missouri Pacific.

The reports intimated that the Kuhn, Loeb & Co. interests had been taking steps to terminate the control of the road so long exerted by the Gould family. Further than this these rumors of the "street" said that John D. Rockefeller had decided to transfer his support from the Gould management to these bankers.

Mr. Gould called at the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and joined in a conference there with members of the banking firm.

Mr. Gould and his associates are now the accredited owners of Missouri Pacific, controlling, it is said, between 360,000 and 400,000 shares of the total capital stock of approximately $30,000,000. Mr. Gould is credited with 250,000 shares.

The Kuhn-Loeb interests are said to hold 100,000 to 125,000 shares and John D. Rockefeller from 75,000 to 125,000 shares. Stock of Missouri Pacific sold at 46 on Jan. 11, and since then has risen 17 points on an increased volume of trading.

FRANCIS J. HENEY.
Graft Prosecutor Narrowly Escapes a Throbbing.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—Francis J. Heney, graft prosecutor, narrowly escaped a beating at the hands of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert at the Olympic club.

Fickert after lunch went to get his bat, when he came face to face with Heney. The latter has indulged in much caustic criticism of Fickert since he was elected, beating Heney.

When he saw Fickert, Heney became very abusive. Fickert merely told him to keep still, until Heney reached for his pistol pocket, when Fickert grabbed him. Fickert is six feet tall and was football captain at Stanford, so Heney was a child in his hands. He would have spanked Heney had not friends interfered.

NAVAL OFFICER WAS A SUICIDE

Commander Marble Shot Himself in the Head.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 16.—From authoritative sources it was learned that the death of Commander Frank Marble, U. S. N., of the naval war college staff, on Tuesday, was a case of suicide and that death wasn't caused by apoplexy, as was at first reported.

Commander Marble shot himself through the head with a 32-caliber revolver, but what prompted his act is a mystery to his wife and to his associates on the college staff. He had been laboring hard at the college, and the belief is that Commander Marble's mind may have given way and in a moment of depression he shot himself.

It was 11.30 Monday night when the commander left his quarters and went to the library of the college. He presumably to finish some work. He did not return to his quarters, but still was not missed until early in the morning, when Mrs. Marble went out searching for her husband. She found him in a toilet off the library, lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

CLARK'S TALK JARS PRESIDENT

Mr. Taft Surprised at Annexation Speech.

FOOD FOR THE AGITATORS

Friends of Reciprocity Fear It Will Result in Defeat of Agreement, What Clark Said.

HENEY IS FUGACIOUS
Graft Prosecutor Narrowly Escapes Beating in San Francisco.

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Taft expressed astonishment to some of his congressional callers that Representative Champ Clark, who is to be speaker of the house in the next congress, should have injected into the discussion in the house when the reciprocity bill was passed any thought about the annexation of Canada.

Nothing could be further from the mind of President Taft, it was said at the White House. There has never been the least intention upon his part to make reciprocity a part of a scheme for annexation. Mr. Clark certainly did not speak for the White House when he made such a statement, it was said. Friends of the president went so far as to say that they did not believe Mr. Clark was speaking for Democracy either.

The friends of the reciprocity agreement were scared when they read Mr. Clark's remarks. They immediately felt that such utterances would offer the food for agitators in England and the Dominion which they have long sought in vain. The bogey of annexation will spring up now possibly, with the result that a propaganda so strong as to insure the agreement's defeat will be forthcoming.

The speech of Mr. Clark is regarded as a "bull" not to be expected from such a source.

Members of House Surprised.
Members of the house of representatives are much surprised that the remarks of Mr. Clark with respect to the annexation of Canada should have kicked up such a fuss as reports received in Washington indicate. Mr. Clark's views on annexation are well known. In the course of his speech on the McCall bill he said:

"I am in favor of the reciprocity treaty to promote our trade relations. That is what we spent that money for. We are not spending that vast sum because we are altruists, but as a business matter. I am for it, because I hope to see the day when the American flag will float over every square foot of the British-North American possessions clear to the North Pole. They are people of our blood. They speak our language. Their institutions are much like ours. They are trained in the difficult art of self-government. My judgment is that if the treaty of 1854 had never been abrogated the chances of a consolidation of these two countries would have been much greater than they are now."

Representative Martin, of South Dakota, then asked if Mr. Clark favored "the abrogation of our tariff law entirely, so far as Canada is concerned, by having free trade with Canada on all products."

Mr. Clark replied in the affirmative. "Yes," he said; "by taking Canada in to become a part of the United States."

Mr. Clark a moment later in a colloquy with Representative Norris, of Nebraska, reiterated his hope that Canada would become a part of the United States.

More often than not warm air in house or stable means foul air and is usually more conducive to lung and stomach troubles than the cold fresh air which is viewed by so many persons as worse than a pestilence.

They fled, and Jandus, finding himself free, went out and aroused the police and the burglers. The burglers have not yet been captured.

More often than not warm air in house or stable means foul air and is usually more conducive to lung and stomach troubles than the cold fresh air which is viewed by so many persons as worse than a pestilence.

The exports of cotton from the United States during 1910 represented an aggregate value of $530,000,000, exceeding by $60,000,000 the highest record ever before made. The quantity, however, was less by 733,000,000 pounds than the exports of 1908, the

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored
My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur hair remedy. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

WYETH & CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Grow Hair on a Bald Head
For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Valuable Prescriptions

Published Every Winter and Are Welcomed by Thousands—Clip Them Out.

Quickly Knocks Rheumatism.
This is recognized by doctors to be one of the most effective prescriptions obtainable to promptly cure rheumatism and back ache. "One ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Add these to half a pint of good whiskey. Take a teaspoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time." Any druggist has these ingredients in stock or will quickly get them from his wholesale house. Any one can easily mix them. The good effects of this treatment are usually felt after the first few doses.

To Cure Indigestion.
A wonderful digestive mixture, which quickly relieves distress after eating, headaches, belching, sour stomach, dizziness, etc., and if used for sufficient time, will completely cure the worst case of dyspepsia, is the following:
"Two ounces essence of Pepsin; three ounces syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catandir compound. These to be mixed in a six ounce bottle, shake well and use in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. The Catandir is a comparatively recent preparation and may not be kept in stock by some of the smaller druggists but he can get it very promptly from his wholesale house. This is surely worth trying by any one with stomach trouble. In hospital work it has been very successful."

Breaks a Cold in a Day.
Get from any druggist "Two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine compound. Mix these with half a pint of good whiskey. Take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Any one can prepare this at home. This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it don't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If the druggist does not have it in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house.

FUN IN A TOYSHOP

At last, after many weary seasons, we have a comic opera that is vastly amusing with a strong plot full of surprising situations that are droll, comic and original. The stage has seldom seen a prettier opera, full of gaiety and merriment, and everybody will want to see it at the Walter Theatre where "The Jollities" present it on Saturday, February 18, matinee and evening only. This merry company carry their own rich costumes and beautiful scenery and are called very skillful comedians, singers and dancers. Their performance is of the highest character and attracts immense audiences. It was a clever idea of a clever man to make an opera from his own book based upon a simple theme that would reach every heart. To read the book before hearing the opera is an added pleasure.
